hours' battle was fought this morning between the British troops and forces of Osman Digna. Osman's position was finally captured by the British. The Arab losses are said to be very great." Further accounts of to-day's battle are in stating that the rebels fought bravely, amounting almost to desperate charges. The British were driving them from their advanced positions under such circumstances as to be highly appreciated. When the rebels retired to the plain the native Indians were the first to charge.

TUNNELING FOR FREEDOM.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 19.—This afternoon while one of the guards of the Riverside Penitentiary was making his rounds he noticed a pile of clay deposited under the wall of the prison. The guard suspecting being aroused, he proceeded to investigate, and discovered a tunnel fifty feet long, reaching within a few feet of the wall. The tunnel was made by the prisoners, and a guard placed over the tunnel, and an attempt made to discover the prisoners who were engaged in the work.

The work, which must have occupied weeks, was conducted so skillfully that the slightest suspicion of any such scheme was not felt. It is not known how many were implicated in the plot, but it is believed that at least fifty of the prisoners were in the secret.

A Mob of Mississippi Negroes Succeed in Breaking a Wife-Murderer's Neck After Several Attempts.

MEMPHIS, TENN., March 19.—Jake Doss, colored, killed his wife near Atlanta, Miss., some days ago. Within forty-eight hours after Doss married another woman and went to Starkville. Suspicion was aroused by the sudden marriage, coupled with the disappearance of the former wife. A search was instituted, and her body found in the creek, with her skull crushed.

The chain of circumstances, and the evidence was completed by the testimony of several persons who saw Doss and the woman just before they reached the bridge on the afternoon of the murder.
Doss was arrested in Starkville and brought back to Memphis for preliminary examination. He was committed to the jail at Columbus. The same night a body of 200 or 300 colored men assembled in Atlanta and marched to the jail at Columbus. They were met by a detachment of the Georgia militia, and a battle ensued. The militia was defeated, and the mob proceeded to
